Reward program content

The plan is divided into five levels: bronze medal, silver medal, gold medal, fancy diamond level, rainbow level .

Reward method

As long as each participant can complete any of the standard projects under the five categories of spiritual education, moral education and civic education, intellectual development, physical and artistic development, and work-related experience, and the required social service hours, they can be successfully applied Points.

How to use success points

- (1) Exchange for advantages: Four success points can be exchanged for one advantage.
- (2) Offset the shortcomings: Four success points can offset one shortcoming committed within the specified time limit before receiving the success points. The upper limit of the number of success points to offset the shortcomings of each semester is three.
- (3) Application for promotion: After the success points are exchanged for advantages or offsetting shortcomings, they can also be used to apply for promotion at the same time.

Promotion method

- (1) Bronze Medal Level: Students must obtain a total of 5 success points in five categories (except social services), of which no less than 1 point in each category, and participate in social services for 10 hours (ie 2 successful points).
- (2) Silver medal level: students must, in addition to five categories (except social services) to obtain a total of 10 success points (accumulative 15 points), of which no less than 2 points in each category (accumulative no less than each category) At 3 o'clock, participate in social service for 15 hours (i.e. 3 success points).
- (3) Gold medal level: students must, in addition to five categories (except social services) to obtain a total of 20 success points (accumulated 35 points), of which no less than 3 points in each category (accumulative no less than each category) At 6 o'clock), and participate in social service for 20 hours (ie 4 success points)

- (4) Fancy Color Diamond Level: Students must, in addition to the five categories (except social services) a total of 28 success points (accumulative 63 points), of which no less than 4 points in each category (accumulative no less than each category) At 10 o'clock), and participate in social service for 25 hours (ie 5 success points)

Chapters	Minimum points earned in each category	Earn a total of points in five categories (accumulated points)	Social service hours (points)
Bronze medal	1	5	10 (2)
Silver medal	2	10 (15)	15 (3)
Gold medal	3	20 (35)	20 (4)
Fancy diamond	4	28 (63)	25 (5)
Rainbow medal	5	36 (99)	35 (7)

Remark : 1) Social service hours include planning, preparation and actual volunteer services.

- 2) Students can be promoted by skipping grades. Jumping refers to the completion of two or more chapter-level requirements at the same time. (If a student skips directly to the Gold Medal, he will earn 35 points in five categories (not less than 6 points in each category), and complete social service for 45 hours (ie 9 success points).
- 3) Instructors can only approve one success point in each category of application. Only the instructor can give other recognitions (such as merits) for the students' personal performance, but they must apply to the relevant department within two weeks after the end of the activity.

Application award procedure

- (1) After completing the project, students can apply for success points online. The deadline is May 31.
- (2) The instructor will evaluate the performance of the students in the project that meets the standard. If the tutor agrees with his performance, his application will be approved
- (3) Four success points can offset one shortcoming or receive one advantage. Students need to apply online by themselves. Success points will be forfeited after the expiry date.
- (4) The four success points will first be used to offset the shortcomings, but the upper limit of the number of success points to offset the shortcomings in each stage is three, and the remaining success points will all be used in exchange for advantages.
- (5) All success points can only be used once in exchange for advantages or offsetting disadvantages
- (6) This plan can cooperate with the implementation of the "Plan for Goodness" of the training team to offset the violation records of minor or above. For details of the "Plan for Goodness", please contact the training team.
- (7) The items completed and participated by the students must be true and correct. If there is any deceptive behavior, it will be handled as a violation. Sanctions will be determined by the training team.
